SLAVERY IN KENTUCKY.—A friend has placed in our hands a letter from a elergyman in Kentucky, from which we are permitted to make the following

On the second Sabbath in July I am to preach by request of the people a sermon on Slavery, showing what I believe to be the Bible doctrine. I lately heard a minister of the Gospel tell the people near here that the Bible razains American Slavery, and that he could prove it at any time; alleging that the Bible nowhere condemns Slavery, and denouncing the North as a hot bed of fanaticism. He is from Old Virginia. I announced to the people that by previous appointment, and by solicitation on the part of my congregation, I should endeavor to show the contrary—that the Bible condemns Slavery. This is now the great question in Kentucky. Many vents in Church and State conspire to make it such; and soon the question, or parties in Church and State,
